

REDEEMING LOVE

REDEEMING LOVE

(Word Received November 2022)

As he has forsaken you, so has he forsaken Me.

But I will have mercy upon whom I will have mercy.

Be not as Jonah who did not want to submit to My mercy, but rather called upon My wrath.

For I pity My children who have been ensnared and those who walk in darkness.

They have no light, no compass, but wander around and seek help from empty and defiled vessels. Wandering in the dark, thinking they are in the light.

But I still love them and will draw them with cords of love.

For I am long-suffering. I have suffered long in their waywardness. I have suffered deeply in their adultery.

But let all men be liars and God be true.

For I am faithful even in their unfaithfulness.

I do not give up easily, but plead by My Spirit so that no man can say that I have forsaken them.

But in the end they will say that I have forsaken them, because they have not returned to Me, the fountain of life.

HIS FAIR MAIDENS

They have hewn out for themselves broken cisterns that cannot contain water.

They will wander in barrenness and in the wilderness I will continue to speak softly to them.

Therefore, love them with My love for My love is not as yours.

In yourself you will never be able to love them in order to redeem them with the love that is full of grace.

For where sin abounds, grace abounds even more.

This is the love that I am calling you to. A suffering love, willing to lay your life down for those undeserving. Willing to love the unlovable, those who will hurt you over and over, as they do Me.

Have I not said that it is easier to love a friend?

The love I require is the love that extends to your enemy. Those who spitefully use you. Those who lie and cheat. The unfaithful, yea, even of your own household.

Therefore, remember that love endures all things. It bears, believes and hopes all things.

I am all you need for this season.

I have prepared a Body through whom I will love those who have backslidden. Are you willing to love the way I do?

Have I not called you to be the full expression of My glory?

I am love. Therefore, love the way I do, unconditionally.

This prophetic word is related to the Fair Maidens teaching, “Not About You”.
